THE FACE OF WAR

featuring films and comment by

CHARLES O. JONES and EUGENE S. JONES
Television Cameramen for the National Broadcasting Company

* * *

NBC-TV's talented twin-brother cameraman team -- CHARLIE AND GENE JONES -- next week make a repeat performance before the OPC (after their dramatic talk on December 7, 1950) on the occasion of publication of their sensational new book, "The Face of War" (Prentice-Hall, $5).

Following brief introductory comments by the brothers, the Club will present a special 23-minute film which features a roundup of their best footage from the Korean battlefield, Alaska and Europe, where they scored interview beats with many top diplomatic and military figures. Narrated by John Cameron Swayze, Camel Caravan commentator, this film was shown on the occasion of the JONES brothers' receipt on November 6 of U.S. Camera's Achievement Award for 1951. IMPORTANT: Make your reservations early for this event!

One of the busiest OPCers at the UN General Assembly in Paris is BERNARD S. REDMONT. His daily column, "A UN Diary", illustrated by famed cartoonist "Woop", runs six times weekly in the London Daily Mail's Continental edition. He does a five-minute daily broadcast, a 15-minute weekly show and the regular Paris spot on the world roundup, "Report from Europe" -- all for Universal Broadcasting System, servicing independent stations in the U.S. and Canada. Free-lancing as well, his latest piece is an exclusive interview with Dr. Albert Schweitzer which appears in the November issue of the Christian Register ... RICHARD MOWRER now reported in Spain for the Christian Science Monitor .... On November 7 Past President LOUIS P. LOCHNER addressed the Nelmar, N. J., Kiwanis Club on "The Foreign Correspondent as Shirt-Sleeve Ambassador" ...

NOIA LUXFORD is coordinating chairman of the Blue Cotillion which launched the 45th Annual TV Xmas seal sale November 19 at the Hotel Pierre. Among OPCers on the committee are President JOHN DALY, Past Presidents BOB CONSIDINE and LOUIS P. LOCHNER, KATHRYN CRAVENS, R. J. CALDWELL and PAT DUNN...The Military Naval Club in New York recently heard RICHARD THOMAS speak on "What Next in Asia?" ...

HAL LEHRMAN's piece on "Ben-Gurion Wins and Loses an Election" was begun in Tel Aviv, finished in Belgrade after HAL gave up waiting for the end of the 70-day Israeli government crisis and published in the November Commentary ... Guest last week with Jerry Wald and Norman Krasna on the Barbara Welles program was ADELE NATHAN ... KATHRYN CRAVENS' report from South America last summer that the alleged bones of Col. Percy H. Fawcett found in the Matto Gross jungle were not his, has now been confirmed by three London scientists and Fawcett's son, Brian...

/ A Memo from The Editor .../ All too rarely do OPC Members devote much thought to the peculiar and particular problems borne by Ye Ed, and there's little reason why they should. Nevertheless, it's encouraging to receive a letter signifying a sincere comprehension of those problems. Like this one: "A few months ago...I requested that The Bulletin be airmailed to both LEO HOCHSTETTER and myself here in Saigon. Observing that the postal rate was 50 cents, I feel somewhat guilty about our request. As LEO and I share the same office, we might very well share the same envelope. Therefore, I suggest that you send us only one Bulletin and put either one or both of our names on the envelope. By my calculation, this will constitute a 100 percent saving!..." The Editor's thanks to the sender, JOHN W. DONOVAN of the U.S. Special Technical and Economic Mission in Vietnam, for his appreciation of the economic problems facing all publications like The Bulletin these days!

WASHINGTON DATELINE (News of OPCers in the Nation's Capital) -- BARRY BISHOP, Washington correspondent for the Dallas News, has resigned his post to accept appointment as press attache at the U.S. Embassy in Mexico City, where he served for five years as Dallas News correspondent. He came to Washington from Mexico City last January, and in September completed 25 years as Dallas News staffer. Mr. and Mrs. BISHOP will leave Washington in early December to return to Mexico City... RALPH HILTON, public affairs officer with the State Department's Latin American Division made a quick trip to Havana early in November ...

JERRY HANNIFIN, Seattle bureau chief for Time, vacationing in Mexico City via Los Angeles, and planning a return by way of Washington and New York ... AP's former bureau chief in Mexico City, JOHN EVANS, returned to New York and Washington recently from a tour of Europe after his retirement. He visited last week with the BARRY BISHOPS ... JOSEPH LAITIN plotting a send-off party for BARRY BISHOP ... ARTHUR D. HOLZMAN busily occupied with meetings, hearings, etc. in his new slot as counsel, Appliance & Equipment Branch, of the Office of Price Stabilization.-- (JESSIE STEARNS and BARRY BISHOP). * * * *

A salute to the OPC in the November 15 issue of Town and Village (for benefit of non-New Yorkers, a weekly newspaper covering activities in Metropolitan Life's Stuyvesant Town and Peter Cooper Village department developments). Piece was headed "There Are Nearly Enough T&V Newsmen to Call An Overseas Press Club Quorum", and cited OPC work of such members (also T&V residents) as HAL BOYLE, MATTHEW HUTTNER, DAVID D. ZINGG, ROBERT D. ECKHOUSE, ANDREW A. ROONEY, LARRY LESUEUR, KENNETH R. PORTER, LEO BRANHAM (ex-Peter Cooperite), GORDON HAMILTON, GABRIEL PRESSMAN, ZANDER HOLLANDER, MARK E. SENIGO, PAUL MANNING and RALPH H. MAJOR, JR.

MEXICO CITY DATELINE: -- (Special to The Bulletin)-- A number of changes in journalistic and affiliated jobs are currently under way in Mexico. HARRY BISHOP, with the Dallas Morning News Washington bureau, en route back to Mexico (see "Washington Dateline" item). BARRY replaces Sam Montague, widely known press chief in the U.S.

Embassy, who has elected to go into business in Mexico rather than accept a transfer to La Paz, Bolivia. Sam will open a top-flight public relations outfit in Mexico ...

Another report going the rounds of the Montenegro bar in the Aztec capital is that Sydney Gruson and his wife, Flora Lewis, of the New York Times will arrive shortly to take over the Times' Mexican coverage. Sydney is now en route home from Israel. After such hardships as war-time England, bombed-out Warsaw and far-from-luxurious Tel Aviv, the Grusons are overdue for the sunny and relatively quiet clime of Mexico ...

William Carney, current Times chief in Mexico, returned from a trip throughout South America during which he attended the Inter-American Press meeting in Montevideo. He is an officer of the IAPA. Reported linking up with FRED STROZIER and other OPC faithfuls in Argentina ... Larry Stuntz of the AP has been ill for three weeks with acute jaundice, despite rumors he was home working on his model railroad ... Bob Prescott, UP chief in Mexico, is strutting around after rolling a bell-ringing 226 in a new press bowling league organized at the plush new Casablanca in the capital. John Abney of Acme claims Prescott thought of the pins as certain key executives as he bowled them over ...

RICHARD MASSOCK, AP bureau chief and president of the Foreign Correspondents Association of Mexico, announces he will shortly call the annual meeting of members to elect new officers. As is the custom, they will meet at the Hipodromo de las Americas. The Association announced some time ago it was going to invite all possible Mexican presidential candidates to luncheons in order to be on speaking-acquaintance with the next president. Life being what it is in Mexico, they only got around to inviting one potential candidate -- Minister of Gobernacion Adolfo Ruiz Cortines. But their luck held. The next president: Ruiz Cortines ...

Your correspondent and family (all five) have just returned from a couple of weeks in the Pacific playport of Acapulco. It is gorgeous. Recommend the next annual OPC meeting be held there. Weather balmy, water just right, fish biting and coconuts (called cocos locos) full of iced gin. -- (JOHN WILHELM). --o-- --o-- --o--

ABC has signed with General Motors to continue HENRY J. TAYLOR's newscasts ... VICTOR IASKY reported back from the Coast ... ALEXANDER KENDRICK has returned to his CBS Vienna post after two weeks covering the UN General Assembly meeting in Paris ... ABC-TV's "On Trial" show heard A. WILFRED MAY, editor and economist, discuss "Do Savings Bonds Give a Fair Return?" on November 20 -- second part of the debate will be heard November 27 ...
